

hello...fcc

i was in the raleigh, nc area several months ago and was trying to work my hf mobile back to some friends on 75/40 meters. i was experiencing some kind of noise i have never heard before. the noise almost made my communication almost impossible. i got back home and told some friends what i had experienced. they told me welcome to the world of bpl...my comment would be to you will be that if that noise will be here to stay, it will have a very dramatic affect on amateur radio, especially the hf bands. i'm not a lawyer, nor do i use the terms usually found in your offices, but i am very sincere in my comments.

thank you for allowing me the opportunity to comment on the use of bpl,
